High Point Bonds Brought Good Price

High Point, April 10.—Bids for $20,000 funding bonds were opened today at 2:30 o'clock. W. N. Coler & Co., of New York, were the successful bidders, their bid being 103.07 or $20,734.

There were twelve bids, the second highest being from N. W. Hensey & Co., New York, $20,676.

This speaks well for High Point, the successful bidders being large tax-payers in the city being practically the owners of the street car and power interests here.

The bonds brought a higher premium than they did one year ago, when the city sold water works bonds.

Special to Telegram.

Raleigh, April 10.—At a meeting before the Corporation Commission today, involving the petition from citizens of Asheboro for the Southern Bell Telephone Company to be required to join with the Asheboro Telephone Company local exchange in providing long distance connections with the subscribers to the Asheboro exchange.

The issue was raised by counsel for the Southern Bell Company that the legislature has not given the commission power to enforce such an order. The Bell resists being required to connect its long distance lines with the independent local exchange. Judge Lawton, of Atlanta, President W. T. Gentry and District Superintendent M. B. Spier were here for the Bell Company. The petitioners were represented by J. A. Spence and W. C. Hammer. The majority in this ward against the commission plan was 211. The election was conducted in a quiet and orderly way, there being no excitement in the city over the result.

ENGAGEMENT OF ROBERT BACON AND MISS MAY CANCELLED BY PARENTS

Announcement Causes Sensation in Washington Society Where Both Live.

By Publishers' Press.

Washington, April 10.—No explanation was obtainable this evening from the parents of Miss Cecilia May in regard to the breaking of her engagement to marry Robert L. Bacon, a son of the United States Ambassador to France. The simple announcement that the engagement was off was all that was obtainable from Colonel and Mrs. Henry May, the parents of the young woman.

Miss May is one of Washington's most famous society belles and is a chum of Helen Taft, the President's daughter. Her engagement to Robert Bacon, famous an an oarsman and former captain of the Harvard crew, was made public on February 23. When Ambassador and Mrs. Bacon came to Washington recently from abroad, they announced that arrangements would be made for the marriage before their return to France and that the wedding would be in the early summer.

Robert Bacon occupies a position in the treasury department. He had many rivals for the hand of Miss May, but was probably favored because of his aristocratic lineage and the money of his family.

BOY'S SKULL CRUSHED BY ROCK THROWN BY NEGRO

Thirteen Year Old Son of District Attorney Holton of Winston-Salem in Hospital as Result--Has Chance to Recover--Lost Leg in 1909.

Special to The Telegram.

Winston-Salem, April 10.—John Holton, the thirteen-year-old son of District Attorney A. E. Holton, is in the Twin City Hospital tonight with a crushed skull. The lad was struck on the head by a rock thrown by a negro boy about noon today. An operation was performed late this afternoon and portions of the crushed bone removed. The physicians state that the lad has a fair chance for recovery.

Young Holton was riding in a wagon with a boy by the name of Austin Newsome, when they passed a negro boy with whom Newsome had had some previous trouble. The negro threw a stone at Newsome but his aim was not true and young Holton was struck a stunning blow on the side of his head. The name of the negro boy was not learned.

District Attorney Holton is in Charlotte, but has been notified of the accident and will return home tomorrow. It will be remembered that young Holton was accidentally shot by his older brother in October, 1909, and his leg had to be amputated as a result. For a time his life was despaired of at that time. Since his recovery he has been as stout as ever going merrily around on his cork leg.

Is Resigned to His [illegible]te.

The penitentiary authorities say that Chas. Murphy, the Yancey county man brought there last week to await termination of his appeal to the supreme court from conviction for murder and sentence to be electrocuted June 30th has settled down to an evident patient wait for the outcome of his appeal still manifesting signs of weak-mindedness or insanity that his counsel insist caused him to commit the murder, which was the shooting of John Simmons because he would not stop and give him a drink as they passed in the road. Murphy and two friends were drinking at the time. It is expected that the case can be gotten through the Supreme Court this term. Then if the sentence is affirmed there will be effort to secure executive clemency on the ground of insanity.

Will "Show" the Governor.

It is an interesting fact that in coming into the Red Men through Occoneechee Tribe, here, Governor Kitchin was passed with merely the assuming of the obligations and without actually "running the trail" as "pale faces" are usually put through, the understanding being that he would witness an initiation in due form, along with the raising of the candidates through the three degrees at subsequent meetings. The braves are summoned to assemble at the wigwarm Friday of this week to put a number of "pale faces" through the gauntlet for the edification and enlightenment of the Governor as to the mysteries of the order he has entered.

THIS IS CITY BEAUTIFYING WEEK IN GREENSBORO.

This is clean-up week in Greensboro. Under the direction of the Civic Department of the Woman's Club a campaign lasting throughout the week is to be made for a general spring cleaning. The Boy Scouts, directed by Secretary Martin of the Y. M. C. A., and the members of the Junior Civic League are being pressed into service and the women and the youngsters propose to plan and carry out a campaign which is bound to get results. The Boy Scouts are distributing pledges to all the homes in the city for the signatures of householders and housewives, and these will be collected by the members of the Junior Civic League. The pledge states that the signer agrees to clean up his or her premises by April 15th. For collecting the pledges cash prizes amounting to a total of $25 will be given the Junior Civic Leaguers, there being three prizes, amounting to $5, $8 and $12.

The people of the city are urged to sign the tickets or pledges and have them ready for the children when they call; but the important matter is to get busy and clean up.

The importance of having a clean and sanitary city cannot be overestimated. An unclean and unsanitary city is dangeorus to health and to the physical welfare of the people. Hence the practical importance of having a clean city. This matter concerns each individual and it is a matter of concern to all, collectively. There is another view of the problem of making and keeping the city clean. That is the view of those who are seeking to work out plans for making the city more attractive. This is a matter of importance, also. It is true that constant effort is necessary to keep the city clean and to make it more beautiful, but special effort is necessary frequently to arouse the people as a whole to their duty along this line. This special effort is being made at this time. Sufficient interest should be aroused now to carry the campaign for a clean city through the spring and summer months when cleanliness and sanitary conditions are most needed. The people of the city, individually, should respond to the efforts of the Woman's Club, and respond cheerfully and heartily. The clean-up campaign, to be successful, depends on individual effort. The city must be cleaned house by house and yard by yard, street by street and alley by alley. If every family manifests interest in the movement and if every housewife does her part, the result as a whole will be a clean city.

The clean-up campaign is a weighty affair and imposes a great burden on the women who are striving for civic improvement and for the city beautiful. They should have the encouragement and the co-operation of all the other women of the city and of all the male inhabitants.

NEWSPAPER "KNOWITALL" IN THE ROLE OF CRITIC OF OTHER "KNOWITALLS."

The New York World belongs to that very restricted and eminently select class of newspaper which know everything and have the ability to take hold and run anything in this country that may happen to need an engineer, or pilot, or superintendent, or general manager. The World is supremely self-confident and utterly self-satisfied. Therefore, it is amusing to find the World criticising a class of people not engaged in newspaper publishing, but which is just as obnoxious as a class to the balance of mankind, as the collection of "knowitall" newspaper men. What the World has to say is pointed and most of it true, however. Read this:

"'I have found that editors do not really know what the people want,' said one of the speakers at the mass-meeting held to uplift and denature the comic supplement.

"This requires no proof. The new standards of reform and criticism have shown that nobody in this country knows anything about the matters that he is paid to know about.

"The current literature of progress has conclusively demonstrated that railroad managers know little or nothing about managing railroads; that doctors know nothing about doctoring; that writers cannot write; that educators cannot educate; that farmers are ignorant of farming; that legislators have never grasped the first principles of legislation; that bricklayers cannot lay brick; that judges do not and cannot administer justice; that administrators are mostly destitute of administrative skill; that theatrical managers know little about the stage; that women cannot keep house; that publishers are scarcely more than half-witted in their selection of books to publish; that lawyers no longer know law; that architects cannot design buildings; that fathers and mothers are unfit to bring up children, and that somebody else always knows more about everything than everybody else.

"We are a wonderful people and this is a wonderful country. Think of all the advancement we have made in spite of the fact that every American citizen seems to be engaged in an occupation for which he has neither talent nor capacity."

In the recent elections in Colorado thirteen women were chosen to fill official positions. Perhaps this will prove unfortunate for the women and for the State.

Senator O'Gorman of New York voted against Senator Martin of Virginia for Democratic leader in the Senate, and the country is beginning to believe that Senator O'Gorman is really a progressive.

The baseball season is right now due, and when it arrives Coca Cola will be there, along with peanuts and lemonade. That federal suit against forty barrels and twenty kegs of the beverage proved conclusively that Coca Cola is one of the South's established institutions.

The News and Observer says that the new Raleigh spirit must be organized. After it is organized it will be possible to capitalize the new Raleigh spirit, but that movement will be opposed by the News and Observer if it has the semblance of a monopoly, even one proposing to give Raleigh a monopoly of the new spirit of that place.

Memphis, Tenn., offered William J. Bryan a sum which was to be as much as $2,000,000, if that much was necessary to induce him to move his publishing plant from Nebraska to the Tennessee city and become a resident of that place. Mr. Bryan declined the offer. Can anyone imagine a standpat or "safe and sane" politician or near-statesman declining a gift of $2,000,000?

SENATOR MARTIN AND SENATOR BAILEY.

Senator Martin of Virginia, who is somewhat in the limelight at present on account of having been selected as Democratic leader of the Senate, does not belong to the Bailey combination of that body, it is said by those who claim to know, although his election as leader has been used by Bailey's followers in an effort to magnify the importance of the Texan as a factor in Democratic ranks. Senator Martin is understood to be strictly a party man on the question of tariff revision and Senator Bailey is at varience with a majority of his party in his tariff views. The Philadelphia Record does not believe that more than five Democratic Senators will vote with Bailey in support of his tariff policies, and has this to say of the Bailey-Martin incident:

"The forty-one Democrats of the Senate of the United States have no need of a leader, boss or bell-wether. Hence it did not make the least difference whether Senator Martin, of Virginia, or any other Senator was made titular "leader," with the sole function of presiding over a caucus when one is called. As for Senator Martin, though he is no statesman, he goes along with his party on the tariff and other questions. If he did not he would not be where he is. But an attempt is made to exaggerate the political importance of Senator Bailey by identifying Senator Martin and the Senators who voted for him with the tortuous policy of the Texas Senator on the tariff and reciprocity with Canada.

"When Senator Bailey in the last session of Congress sent in his resignation (with a string to it) because the Democrats refused to follow him on the admission of Arizona, eleven Senators complacently joined in a request that he withdraw it. Senator Martin was not among them. But when it comes to tariff revision not more than five Democratic Senators will be found supporting Bailey's policy of protective duties on raw materials of manufactures "for revenue only." Sugar and lumber will lead off four or five Democratic Senators to his support on those two schedules, and Florida pineapples may win him another. That is about all. He will have no more strenuous opponents than in his colleague, Senator Culberson, and the whole Texas delegation in the House. Such is the condition to which his course has reduced him in the councils of the Democratic party."

The minister was shaking hands with a new member of his congregation, a girl fresh from Sweden, and said, cordially "I would like to know your address, so I can call on you."

"Oh, said the girl, innocently, "I haf a man."

WILLIAMS SOLD TO BUFFALO.

Spartanburg Receives $1,000 for Former Hornet—Will Report to Manager Stallings at the End of the Season In the Carolina Association.

Spartanburg, S. C., April 10.—Let go by Manager Lave Cross of the Charlotte baseball team because the Hornet mogul didn't think he could deliver the goods and picked up for nothing by Manager Billy Laval of the Musicians, "Boots" Williams was this afternoon sold to the Buffalo team of the Eastern League for the sum of $1,000. Williams will finish the season with Spartanburg and report to Buffalo to finish the season there. He plays third base for Spartanburg. He played the entire season of 1910 with Charlotte.

The Buffalo team has played in Spartanburg for the past four days. Manager George Stallings of the Bisons saw Williams in action and was much impressed with his work, both as a third baseman and as a batter. This afternoon he attempted to buy him and a price of $1,000 was put on him by the local association. After some deliberation, Stallings agreed to close the deal. The sensational player will remain with the local club during the approaching season and at the end will report to Buffalo. This is the largest price ever received for a ball player by the Spartanburg team.

Never Touched It.

"I know Archie does not drink," confided Mrs. Pike to her sister; "that is, anything stronger than a beer on a hot day, or maybe a hot whiskey when he has a cold.

"I had made up my mind to test him. I have always said I would never live with a man who drank, so I prepared a test.

"I went down street to a liquor store and bought a box containing a bottle of whiskey, a bottle of Madeira wine and a bottle of brandy—all for one dollar, in the prettiest little box. Then I surprised him with it for Christmas—and I tell you he was surprised when he saw it—and more so, when I confessed that I had only paid a dollar for the bargain.

"Archie promised me solemnly that he would never taste the horrid stuff, and although I have kept it handy in his study ever since, and watched it anxiously every day, he has kept his word.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

A school teacher in Kentucky had some trouble in teaching a little fellow to say "double l," double e," "double s," etc. But after a while his efforts were fruitful, and he was gratified by an extraordinary appearance of interest on the pupil's part. In fact, the boy became a double letter hunter and ceased altogether to require attention at that point.

About that time they reached the lesson concerning the early riser, beginning with "Up! Up! and see the sun!"

He read it "Double up! and see the sun!"

The Sound Sleep of Good Health.

Can not be over estimated and any ailment that prevents it is a menace to health. J. L. Southers, Eau Claire, Wis., says: "I have been unable to sleep soundly nights, because of pains across my back and soreness of my kidneys. My appetite was very poor and my general condition was much run down. I have been taking Foley Kidney Pills but a short time and now sleep as sound as a rock, my general condition is greatly improved, and I know that Foley Kidney Pills have cured me." Howard Gardner.

Talk to Mothers.

There is need in the home for cuts, bruises, sores and sprains, children and others are heirs to a real good antiseptic liniment, one which will not burn and hurt worse than the wound itself, and which will give the greatest relief and prevent scars. Vick's Liniment is prepared for this purpose. Take this suggestion from a trained druggist who knows.

Good results always follow the use of Foley Kidney Pills. They give prompt relief in all cases of kidney and bladder disorders. Try them. Howard Gardner.

Deserved Slam at County Jails.

London, April 10.—The English prison commission has reported to the home office that American State prisons and reformatories are models of excellence, but that the city and county jails are such that "it is impossible for the United States to have assigned her a place in the vanguard of progress in penal institutions."

One Conductor Helped Back to Work.

Mr. Wilford Adams is his name, and he writes: "I was confined to my bed with chronic rheumatism and used two bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy with good effect. The third bottle put me on my feet and I resumed work as conductor on the Lexington, Ky., Street Railway. It will do all you claim in cases of rheumatism." It clears the blood of uric acid. Howard Gardner.

"I don't believe it would be well for women to vote," said Mr. Hibrow.

"Why not?" asked his wife.

"It would lead to embarrassement. I have seen very few women whose opinions of their husbands was such as to justify them in advocating their election to office."—Washington Star.

A Spring Suggestion by a Trained Druggist.

Appendicitis and many other ills come from Constipation and over-loading with food which the system cannot care for. The bowels must be cleared and antiseptcised to give their normal functions and this should not be done by strong Cathartics, as every physician will tell you. Vick's Little Liver Pills have been the bowels and mild stimulation to the lazy liver and thus cure trouble in adults or children.

A Reliable Medicine—Not A Narcotic

Mrs. F. It cured the cough as well as the choking and gagging spells and he got well in a short time. Foley's Honey and Tar Compound has many times saved us much trouble and we are never without it in the house." Howard Gardner.

THE POWER OF STEAM.

Many May See But It Takes Genius to Realize.

When James Watt saw the steam causing the kettle lid to jump up and down he said "There must be power in that steam that it can lift such a weight."

There was.

Millions prior to him had seen the same phenomenon and regarded it as an unexplained mystery.

Recent scientific research has put the finger on the "cause" of Dandruff, Falling Hair, and consequent Baldness, and has unearthed a tiny germ which eats the life from the roots of human hair.

IN THE WORLD OF SPORT

Reilly, Crack Swimmer, After Hebner's Title.

James Reilly of the New York Athletic club, not satisfied with running Charles M. Daniels, "the human fish," a close second in all round swimming in New York recently has become ambitious to defeat Harry Hebner of Chicago, champion in the back stroke. The Mercury Foot man has shown exceptional speed at this style of natation and believes that with a little more practice he can take the measure of the westerner. As Hebner now holds the world's record of 1 minute 56 2-5 seconds for the classic 150 yards distance, a defeat by Reilly would give the latter claim to international supremacy.

Walsh After Weston's Walking Record.

Sergeant John Walsh of New York is walking to San Francisco and return in an effort to break Edward Payson Weston's record. Walsh is fifty-eight years old and has been thirty years in the army. He is to receive $2,000 if he succeeds in lowering the transcontinental record. It is his fourth trip across the continent. He says he will follow the southern route. In 1892 he walked from Fort Leavenworth to Boston, then to Mare island in 110 days. In 1898 he walked from coast to coast in 90 days. In his last effort he walked from Salt Lake City to Portland, Me., in 88 days. The distance for the latter trip was 3,600 miles. Weston's record for the round trip from coast to coast is 185 days, 77 days from west to east and 108 days from east to west.

The Canadian Life curling trophy represents the single rink championship of Toronto and is open to all members of clubs in that city. It is a gold cup valued at $1,200. It becomes the property of the club winning it most times in twelve years. Queen City has won it three times—J. C. Scott in 1907, H. A. Haisley in 1908 and R. Rennie in 1909. Granites have won it twice—W. E. McMurtry in 1906 and T. Rennie in 1910.

OUT OF THE POORHOUSE.

A Pathetic Incident of Life In an English Village.

"Opposite my home," writes a correspondent of the Westminster Gazette from an English village, "are two cottages which for some time stood empty. A few weeks ago two old people from whom the pauper disqualification had been removed came slowly up the long hill and with trembling fingers unlocked the door and entered. A piece of paper very soon appeared to act as a screen across the window. We saw very little of the old people, but there were signs of what was happening inside. Before long a little white curtain replaced the paper. After dark no light appeared in the cottage. It takes time to furnish with an old age pension. One night as I drew down my blind a gleam of light caught my attention from over the way, and the picture I saw will remain with me for long. There in the middle of the room was a lighted lamp, and the two old people, with clasped hands, stood gazing up at it in silent delight. They must have had more creature comforts in the workhouse, but there was no pride of possession there and they could not be together either. But the pathos of it—beginning life at seventy!"

Flights of Fancy.

Bishop Welldon's story of the babu who said a certain town was "three miles away, as cock crowed," reminds a correspondent of the obliging Frenchman who helped him to pick out places from the Alpine viewpoint at Lyons. Some of the party understood the Frenchman to say that a place was so many miles off "as the cow flies"—though actually he had only pronounced "crow" to rhyme with "now."—London Chronicle.

A Stone's Throw.

"The ancient Romans had a catapult that could hurl rocks more than a mile."

"Now I understand it."

"What?"

"My landlord told me this house was a stone's throw from the depot. He must have had it on his hands since the time of the Caesars."—Cleveland Leader.

An Apprehension.

"What do you think of this idea of letting baseball players appear in vaudeville?"

"I don't know how it will work out," replied the fan, "but I'm afraid that when the season comes around some fellow will forget himself and start up a ballad when he ought to be sliding to second."—Washington Star.

By Publishers' Press.

Chicago, April 10.—President Noyes of the Washington American baseball club has been offered the largest sum ever named for a ball player for the release of Walter Johnson. The offer comes from Comisky of the Chicago White Sox and the figures are $15,000. It is said this is undoubtedly the largest sum ever offered for the purchase of a player.

Johnson has not reported in Washington this season on account of a difference about salary which has not been adjusted. President Noyes refused to meet Walter's figures, which were $7,500, and Johnson refused to play. It is said that he was offered $6,500 for the season's work by the Washington club.

Women and Society

OVER THE WINDY HILL.

Over the windy hill she trips,
The beautiful lady of laughing lips;
Up the valley of dreams she flies,
The beautiful lady of azure eyes;
Up the hill and along the lea
And over the blue of the balmy sea!

Over the windy hill, so far,
With iris eyes and the flossy hair
Of foam of April and gleam of May,
And the pipers pipe and the pixies play;
And dipping down with her filmy wing,
Over the windy hill comes spring!

Over the windy hill she went
When fifth month blossoms where clean forth spent,
But left me here rose as a token then,
And I always knew she would come again,
Over the hills and down the dew
With her young green heart and her skies of blue!

Mr. W. W. Long and Miss Douglas Hendrix Wedded.

Their many friends throughout the city and county will learn with surprise of the marriage of Miss Douglass Hendrix and Wyeth W. Long, the ceremony having been performed Sunday shortly after noon in the First Presbyterian church of High Point, Rev. Dr. Caldwell, the pastor, officiating.

While the marriage comes as a distinct surprise to the friends of Mr. and Mrs. Long, the immediate family of the bride and groom were prepared for the news. The marrage was scheduled for June, but the lovers decided that there was no time like the present. Mr. Long is at present a student of the Richmond Medical College, having come here the middle of the week to attend the marriage of his sister, Miss Marjorie Long to Charles D. Benbow, Jr. While in the city he talked the matter over with Miss Hendrix and soon persuaded her that it was folly to wait until June and then have to undergo the ordeal of having a formal wedding.

Saturday night Deputy Register Roy Jones was roused up and prevailed on to come uptown and issue the license. Sunday morning Mr. Long and Miss Hendrix were driven to High Point and the vows were soon spoken.

Mrs. Long is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Hendrix and is one of the most popular young women in the city. Of an attractive personality and possessed of unsual charms Miss Hendrix had always been a social favorite. Mr. Long is the son of Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Long and is well known throughout the city and county. He is at present studying medicine and will become an assistant to his father at the end of the present school term.

FEUD

Breaks Out in Breathett County, Ky--One Man Dead and Two Badly Wounded.

By Publishers' Press.

Lexington, Ky., April 10.—One man was shot dead and two others badly wounded in a deadly feud which has broken out in the mountains of Breathett county. The authorities fear that the encounter is the opening of another battle of extermination. The persons concerned in the present conflict were involved in the murder feud here, in which James B. Marcum and Marshal James Cockrill were killed on the streets of Jackson.

Jason Deaton, accompanied by Luke Begley went to the home of Anse White, near the Berry county line, to settle an old trouble. White killed Deaton and wounded Begley. White was also wounded. White's brother, Tom White, is now serving a life sentence for the murder of Attorney Marcum.

Mayor Stafford Issues Proclamation For Clean City

This week has been designated as "cleaning-up" week in the city, the movement having been inaugurated several days ago by the civic department of the Woman's Club. The method adopted this year is a novel one and will, no doubt, meet with the general approval of the people of the city. Cards will be placed in each home in the city by Boy Scouts, the cards containing an agreement to clean up. The housekeepers, who desire to cooperate in the clean-up movement will sign the card and it will be collected later by members of the Junior Civic eLague. The city wagons will call at all homes from which a signed card has been secured to haul off the trash and garbage collected together.

To the Citizens of Greensboro:

As this week has been set apart by the Civic League and Health Department of the City as our annual cleaning up week, I respectfully call upon all the citizens to cooperate in every way possible in this good work. I deem it unnecessary to speak of the good that will be derived on the part of our people, both as to health and the beautifying of our city,

Very respectfully,
E. J. STAFFORD,
Mayor.

Trans-Atlantic Airship Planned

Berlin, April 10.—A huge airship intended for trans-Atlantic travel is projected here and a company capitalized at $2,000,000 has been formed to finance the scheme. The proposed dirigible will be eight times longer than Zeppelin's new Deutchland. The plans call for a vessel 775 feet long, driven by thirty motors. It will be able to carry 200 passengers, in addition to a crew of 100. The promoters claim it will be able to travel from London to New York without mishap.

GEORGIA MEN USE GUNS IN ENCOUNTER

By Publishers' Press.

Sylvania, Ga., April 10.—L. H. Hilton, president of the Screven County Bank and member of the city council, armed with a shot gun, today approached C. E. Lee, a farmer, and began firing. After he had fired three shots friends disarmed Hilton. Lee returned the fire and sent three bullets into his foe. Lee then escaped, but later notified the sheriff that he was ready to surrender. The shooting caused no little excitement on the streets of the city.

THE MANAGEMENT OF THE GREENSBORO TELEGRAM is planning to give the readers of this paper a first-class Journal in keeping with the progress and advancement of the City, County and State, containing the current happenings at home and abroad. A regular Telegraphic News Service was inaugurated Saturday morning, April 1st. An arrangement has been made for a complete wire service covering the events of interest throughout the world. THE TELEGRAM'S new press has arrived and will be installed and put into operation as soon as possible. When the new press is put into service THE TELEGRAM will be Seven Columns wide—the standard size of the leading Dailies of the country. THE TELEGRAM will be bigger and better than ever.

The management believes that with these improvements, which are being made at a considerable outlay, and with the other improvements contemplated, and which will be made from time to time, THE TELEGRAM will be more valuable to the readers, and likewise to the advertising patrons. The management believes too that the readers of THE TELEGRAM will welcome an improved paper, and will be glad to pay an increased subscription price. It is not the desire of the management of this paper to impose an unreasonable price upon its readers; but the simple desire is to make the paper compare favorably with the leading Dailies of the State, and put the subscription price on an average with the others—in other words to put it on a basis in a measure commensurate with the improved paper.

DICK CROKER HAS NO DESIRE TO COME BACK IN POLITICS

Former Tammany Boss Says Nothing Could Induce Him to Enter Politics Again---Some Figures Showing Vastness of New York Presented by Robert Carter.

(By ROBERT LEE CARTER.)
Special to The Telegram.

New York, April 10.—Mr. Richard Croker has been in the city and has been watched very carefully by the politicians, especially those in Tammany. The recent senatorial mix up in this State has not been greatly to the credit of those who have the interests of the Democratic party in charge, and I have heard more than once the expression, "If Croker was running things this mess would have been avoided."

In fact there is reason to believe that urgent representations have been made to the Tammany Chieftain to resume control and straighten things out.

These appeals have been in vain, however. Mr. Croker said to me the other day, "I am out of politics for good and always. I have done my share and there is no conceivable combination of circumstances which would induce me to alter my determination. This is final and unalterable." This would seem to settle the question as to Mr. Croker's coming back.

There have been printed within the past few days a number of statistics which give an idea of the vastness of New York. There were 4,790 accidents of all sorts on the street, subway, elevated and steam railroads of Greater New York, in January. For the same month of 1910, the accidents numbered 4,413.

While the total number of accidents on street railroads has increased about 1-5 per cent the number miles operated have increased 9 per cent, and the number of revenue passengers carried has increased 6 per cent. The total number of revenue passengers carried on the street railroads in January 1911, was 131,200,000, as against 123,860,742, in January 1910, an increase of 7,339,258. The total number of revenue car miles operated by the street railroads in January 1911, was 25,250,000, as against 23,066,576, an increase of 2,183,424.

The annual report of Police Commissioner Cropsy set forth that 2,657 males and 1,170 females were reported by relatives and friends in New York, to be missing during the year. Of this number a total of 725 were not found during the year, 438 of the unaccounted for being men and 287 women. Of these 525 are residents of Manhattan, the Bronx and Richmond. Most of the disappearances were recorded from Manhattan.

There were 170,681 arrests during the year in New York, 123,287 of the total having been made in Brooklyn and the Bronx. There were 485 permints issued for the carrying of pistols.

The records of the coroner's office show that twenty-four homicides have been committed in Manhattan alone since January 1, 1911. This is at the rate of about two a week—not, perhaps, an excessive ratio, considering the population involved and its variegated character.

The figures gain interest from the percentage of arrests to homicides. There have been nine arrests in these twenty-four cases. Three of the murderers implicated in the homicides committed suicide.

In the remaining twelve cases nobody has been arrested.

It was reported that Marshall Field & Company, the Chicago department store owners, have purchased the New York Theatre and the Criterion Theater properties, running from 44th to 45th streets on Broadway.

The transaction involves an investment of more than $3,500,000.

Marshall Field & Company bought the property it is said with the idea of putting up an immense department store, thus establishing the first great enterprise of the kind in the Longacre district.

"The corporate limits of New Orleans cover 165 square miles," says Warren B. Reed of that city.

"Six years ago the geographical center of the city was in the midst of marsh inhabited by alligators and crawfish. Today handsome houses and smooth roadways cover it. Four years ago an 8,000 acre marsh immediately to the eastward of the settled portion of the city could not be traversed by man without the aid of a pirogue, and this year many thrifty farmers are growing highly profitable food crops thereupon in great profusion. Immediately beyond this track work is being pushed on the reclamation of more than 34,000 acres, and provision has been made for the opening of more than 100 miles of wide, paved boulevards along the shores of Lake Pontchartrain and Borgne. All of this is within the limits corporate of New Orleans, and all of the railroads entering from the east pass through these tracts.

"To the westward the same character of work is being done," continued Mr. Reed, "and preparations are now being made to reclaim an additional half-million acres through the construction of wide levee along the western shore of Lake Maurepas. On the crown of the levee a paved roadway seventy-five miles in length will connect New Orleans and Baton Rouge, and ultimately will be the southern highway."

Those southern States which are going in systematically to attract immigration should be introduced in the methods used by Canada to fill up her waste places. As outlined by Minister of the interior Oliver in presenting the estimates for his department to the house of commons at Ottawa. He reported that the immigration bureau of this department maintained in all seventeen agencies here in the United States for pushing along the American "invasion" of Canada. They are scattered all over the northern part of the country from Spokane to Boston and also at points south of the Ohio river; there is one at Syracuse in this State and another at Providence, Rhode Island; and are all operated with marked success; each of the agents in charge of these stations is paid a regular and a very liberal salary, and in addition to these the government has a large force of other agents and sub-agents here who are paid commissions for every bona fide immigrant into Canada whom they secure.

The rates are $3 a month for men, $2 for women and $1 for children; thus a husband and wife with five children secured by an agent would yield him $10 in commissions.

The "Canada-invasion" movement needs no further explanation—it is simply the application of business methods by the government to its system for settling Canadan lands and developing Canadian industries, the working up of the business with men and money.

Advertising literature has its place in this scheme, of course but in addition Canada sends out and gets the immigrant—does not wait for him to "get a move on." In salaries and commissions of this sort the Dominion expended $350,000 at its agencies in Great Britain and the United States.

Herein is a pointer for the South, which needs immigrants in large numbers for the development of its industries and the solution of its labor problems. The South must "go out and get its settlers"—not merely invite them to come.

ORDEAL OF THE NEW RECRUIT

The Initiation of an Embryo General.

The officers of the —th hussars were profoundly moved. Commissions in the regiment had from time immemorial been reserved for the sons of noblemen, and now John Hunkins, the son of a retired brewer, had been appointed. There was a babel of voices at the junior mess, all raised in protest against this invasion of a prerogative of the peerage. One man sat quietly listening without a word, but he was a younger son of a baronet who had made money in trade and had been admitted to the sacred circle of titled people because he had given his fortune to the poor.

"It's very easy to get wid of these common intwuders," said Lord Hartley. "All we have to do is to fweeze 'em out."

"Just so," assented the Hon. Mr. Maxcey.

"But suppose their beggarly natures are too obtuse to see what's meant by the tweatment we give 'em," put in the Earl of Harrowby.

"In that case," Hartley explained, "we'll appoint a committee to visit their rooms and smash their furniture."

"A very effective measure," remarked the Hon. Mr. Maxcey.

"Twotter," said Hartley, "you don't seem intewested in the matter at all."

"I'm not."

"Oh, Twotter's not been one of our kind long enough to be intewested!" sneered Harrowby.

"That's just it," replied Trotter composedly.

At this point who should walk into the messroom but the subject of the discussion, a well built, florid young Englishman, with flaxed hair and blue eyes.

"Good evening, gentlemen," he said, taking a seat and helping himself. "I'm glad to be one of you."

There was a dead silence around the board for some time, during which Hunkins was satisfying his appetite. The silence was broken by the Hon. Mr. Maxcey. Turning, he brought his monocle on the newcomer and said:

"I say, isn't your father a brewer?"

"He was," replied Hunkins imperturbably.

"Well, then, why didn't he bring you up to the business?"

"Isn't your father Lond Bungleried?"

"Yes."

"Well, why didn't he bring you up to be a gentleman?"

Some of the mess smiled, but those who had been most active with their tongues then and there resolved that the brewer's son must be frozen out.

But Hunkins appeared to be too obtuse to see their intentions or too good natured to notice them, and they resolved upon more strenuous means. A committee went to his quarters and smashed some chinaware which he greatly prized. The next evening he visited the quarters of three men he suspected and smashed whatever he could find that was easily breakable. When the officers of the junior mess assembled for dinner that evening there was a worse hubbub than when they had discussed the new appointment. In the midst of it in walked Hunkins.

"Gentlemen," he said. "I've been obliged to retaliate for the breaking of my china without being sure of the men who did it. If I have made any mistake I'm ready to apologize and replace what I have damaged. If not I'm ready to give satisfaction after dinner on the tanbark in the riding hall."

It appeared that he had made no mistake, for Hartley, Harrowby and Maxcey, whose articles he had broken, all claimed the privilege of knocking him out. Hunkins undertook to satisfy these gentlemen in the order named. He had good muscle and was a fine boxer. Hartley was soon put out of the fight, but Harrowby was not so easily disposed of. Hunkins had need for all his skill and endurance. He finally knocked out the noble lord, but when he had done so he was next to knocked out himself. The best man of his three enemies still remained.

"Beg pardon," said Trotter, stepping forward. "It wouldn't be becoming of us as gentlemen to permit a newcomer among us to fight three men on the same evening. I'll take Mr. Hunkins' place with Mr. Maxcey."

"There's no quarwel with you, Twotter," Hartley protested.

"Cewtainly not," said Harrowby.

But Englishmen respect courage, and the others present thought that Hunkins in fighting two men had done all that could be expected of him. Maxcey proved that he was not disposed to take advantage of a winded adversary and consented to meet the substitute. The fight that followed was a long one. The disputants were evenly matched, and neither could get the advantage of the other. When it was found almost impossible after the twentieth round for either to come up to the scratch the fight was declared off, and the incident of smashed furniture was a thing of the past.

And so was the objection to Hunkins. He had won his way into the most aristocratic regiment in the British service by simply pursuing a straightforward course. Hunkins is now a general, having won his principal promotion during the Boer war. Trotter has long been a member of parliament and at one time held a seat in the cabinet. Hartley and Maxcey were killed in battle, and Harrowby, who has succeeded to the title, is living on his estates.

REALITY OF THE AMAZONS.

Relics of Women Fighters of High Rank In Olden Times.

The tradition of the Amazons, a valiant race of women warriors, was a favorite one with the writers and artists of ancient Greece, but it has been generally treated in modern times as a poetic myth. Now comes an interesting archaeological discovery which makes it appear certain that there were indeed women fighters of high rank in the old days.

There was recently unearthed a sepulchre in the part of Italy once known as Etruria in which was found a war chariot of bronze and iron and crouching in it the skeleton of a woman. There were about her not only the remains of rich robes and beautiful ornaments of gold and ivory, attesting truly feminine vanity, but also the same weapons which the ancient traditions say the Amazons used in battle. The bronze work and the terra cotta vases definitely fixed the date of the tomb at about 800 B. C.

The earliest accounts of the Amazons located them in the northeast part of Asia Minor, but Etruria was peopled from Asia Minor and had attained a high degree of skill in certain of the arts long before Rome was founded. Such evidence as this tomb affords is more convincing than the pictures of Amazons on the old vases or such legends as that of Queen Penthesilela, who is said to have led 5,000 female soldiers to the aid of Priam in the Trojan war.

ODD STUNTS WITH A WHIP.

"I saw a downright novelty on the bill of a European music hall," said a man who spends a bit of his time on the other side. "It was furnished by an Austro-Hungarian, who accomplished some wonderful things with a whip.

"One of his stunts was to take a long lashed, stout handled whip in each hand and, with orchestral accompaniment, proceed to crack or snap them at a terrific rate. The sound made by his whips in this manner is graduated from a noise like a rifle report to the soft click of a billiard ball. It makes a curious sort of music and serves to show how he can regulate the force of each stroke.

"Another feature of his performance is achieved with a vicious looking whip with an abnormally long lash. It is provided with a heavy handle of medium length. This is his favorite toy, and what he can do with it is really wonderful. He first gives an idea of what fearful force may lie in a whiplash in the hands of an expert. There is a large frame shown, over which is stretched a calf or sheep skin. This is marked with dots of red paint. The man with the whip steps up and, swinging the lash round his head, lets fly at the calfskin. With every blow he actually pulls a piece out of the leather, leaving a clean cut hole. These pieces are distributed among the audience to show that there is no trickery about the performance.

"After this he takes a frame with three shelves. On these there are a dozen or more of medium sized apples lying very close together and provided with large numbers. Any one in the audience may designate which apple he wishes struck, and the unerring lash snatches it out like a flash. A still more difficult feat is the snapping of coins from a narrow necked bottle. A piece of silver about the size of a half crown is put over the cork of the bottle, which stands on the edge of a table. The whip artist, without appearing to take any sort of aim, sends the long lash whizzing through the air and picks off the coin without jarring the bottle, much less breaking it."—New York Press.

HIGHWAY ROBBERY CHARGED TO NEGROES

C. H. King, a White Man, Held Up by Negro Man and Two Women.

Sunday morning the policet arrested Rhoda Siler and Anne M. Williams, colored, on the charge of highway robbery. Yesterday morning James Graves, colored, was locked up on the charge of being implicated in the robbery.

About midnight Saturday Sergeant Jones was notified by C. H. King that he had been held up in Duplin and several dollars taken from him. He stated that he had been across that section of the city to collect for some work and as he was returning he was caught from behind by a negro man while two women proceeded to go through his pockets. He was able to give only a faint description of the negroes, but the officers set to work and soon caught the Siler woman and upon searching her a $5 bill was found. She then confessed and the other woman was soon caught.

She said she did not know the negro man but gave a fair description of him and yesterday morning the officers located Graves.

The negroes were given a hearing yesterday morning, being held for Superior court in bonds of $200 for the man and $100 each for the woman. Failing to give bond they were committed to jail.

BIG LEAGUE OPENING BATTLES ON WEDNESDAY

The Teams of the Leagues Are Mostly in Good Shape for the Season's First Games---Where They Play.

New York, April 10.—"Two pennants for New York," is the cry of New York's army of baseball entnusiasts, who confidently expect the two local nines to capture the coveted banners in both the National and American leagues this season. There is keen interest in the opening game Wednesday, when a line can be had on the New Nationals in their clash with the Philadelphia club. The Brooklyn club will make its debut here next Saturday on the Giants' grounds, but will not play the opening game on its own diamond until next week.

The local American league players do not show on the Hill Top until April 20, when they play Washington.

The National players have had fine conditioning down in Texas, and Manager McGraw said tonight he never brought back a team from a spring practice in such excellent shape. "It is the best ball club I have had since 1905, when we won the world's series from Philadelphia," remarked McGraw.

Chrity Mathewson, star twirler, has a sore finger on his left hand and probably Ames or Raymond will be on the hurling mound at the opening event.

Hal Chase, manager of the Highlanders, has strengthened his infield with Hartsell at shortstop and Johnson—a former Sally leaguer—at third base and with a stout pitching staff, he says he expects to finish one two.

Brooklyn has hopes of landing in the first division of the National league and Manager Dahlen depends in no small measure on his pitching staff to carry him through. Dahlen says he has a lively bunch of youngsters and will make trouble for the leaders.

The World's Champions.

Philadelphia, April 10.—Full of the spirit that carried them to a baseball glory last fall, the world's champions will open the American league season at Shibe park Wednesday, with New York, which expects to make a strong bid for the pennant this year.

Much is expected of the Philadelphia Nationals this year by reason of the addition of several lively players acquired through the Cincinnati deal. Manager Dooin thinks he has the right combination for a winning team and declares he expects to be one of the two teams that will fight it out next fall for the world's championship. The Philadelphians will open the season at New York the same day the American league season opens here.

The Terrible Tigers.

Detroit, Mich., April 10.—The first of the Detroit players who will be in the line-up when the club meets Chicago in the opening game of the American league season here Wednesday reached Detroit early Monday. Among the first arrivals were Mullin, Crawford, Cobb, Willett and Summers. All the other players will be here by Tuesday morning. Although the days of idleness at Indianapolis and Cincinnati caused by bad weather resulted in several of the men taking on flesh, Manager Jennings says the squad left Monroe, La., the training camp, in such splendid shape that all of the regulars can be expected to start the season in good condition.

According to President Navin and Manager Jennings, the final disposition of the recruits will not be made until after the season opens. The officials have already stated, however, that Walter Schaller will be retained as substitute outfielder. Gains will be on first base in the first game.

Of the new pitchers, Lively, the Pacific coast recruit, Irvington and Mitchell have been highly spoken of by Jennings and battery coach Sugden. It has not been stated officially whether Works and Stroud of last years staff will be retained.

Reds in Poor Shape.

Cincinnati, April 10.—In case fair weather heralds the National baseball season opening in this city Wednesday there is hardly a doubt that League park will receive more patrons than on any previous opening day. Every reserved seat has been sold for the opening struggle with the Pittsburg team, and in anticipation of a record-breaking attendance workman are busy erecting 5,000 circus seats in the outfield.

The Cincinnati team is far from being in perfect condition. Since the arrival of the team fro mthe Southern training quarters at Hot Springs two weeks ago, it has encountered only one day of fair weather. As a result, seven men have been reported on the hospital list suffering from colds and the grippe. Notwithstanding this, Manager Griffith believes his regulars will round into form in time to present his strongest line-up on opening day.

In the Mound City.

St. Louis, April 10.—All is in readiness for the league opening Wednesday, when the local American league team will play with Cleveland. With the exception of 20 days at Hot Springs, Ark., the Americans have attempted to get into condition on their own grounds.

The Nationals, with Manager Bresnahan in control, spent a few days at an Indiana health resort, and with the exception of one trip to Kansas City have played almost daily on their own field.

Roderick Wallace, shortstop for a number of years, will have his first experience this year as a manager of the Americans. The team, after having been under option, is still owned by R. J. Hedges. It is generally admitted that the Americans are not in condition. Many new players are on the team and the regulars line-up has not been chosen.

The Nationals will practice here tomorrow for the last time and then will go to Chicago, where they will open the season. Bresnahan will carry his full quota of men most of the season, if he clings to his present intention. His team is in good condition. He says the success of the team depends on pitchers. They at present are quite unknown, with the exception of Salle, a veteran.

Nationals Have New Plant.

Washington, April 10.—In a modern baseball plant, reconstructed from the ashes of the old one destroyed less than a month ago by fire, the Washington baseball club of the American league will open the season Wednesday with the Boston team as its opponent.

The Washington team, minus Walter Johnson, who refused to sign a contract for a salary less than $7,500 a year, returned today from the spring training camp at Atlanta.

Cubs and White Sox.

Chicago, April 10.—Better prepared to play championship baseball than since the spring of 1906, the Chicago team, champions of the National league, will open the season here Wednesday with the St. Louis club. Manager Chance believes Chicago will again win the pennant, but in the same breath named New York as the most formidable contender.

The team is in splendid condition and is almost the same that won the championship last year. The third base position alone is changed.

Heine Zimmerman has been picked to fill the place made vacant by the veteran Harry Steinfeldt, who was sold to St. Paul.

Although Pitcher Overall is lost to the club, Manager Chance is pinning his faith to Mordecai Brown, the three-fingered pitcher who has meant so much to the club in winning four pennants in the last five years. Reulbach and Pfeister, both pitchers, are going at top speed, and Chance expects much of them.

Six new players have been added this season, and it appears as if four of them will be retained. They are: Shean and Doyle, utility players; Saior, a promising first baseman, and Ball, an outfielder.

In the infield Chance, Evers and Tinker will appear again, while Sheckard, Hoffman and Schulte will hold down the outfield positions. Kling and Archer, regarded as the best catchers in the league, will compose the reiciving staff.

It is probable that Reulbach will oppose St. Louis in the opening game with Kling behind the bat.

Much is expected of the Chicago American league club this season. Manager Duffy has the material for a team of veterans or youngsters, whichever may prove best. The team will open the season at Detroit.

Pirates Strong.

Pittsburg, Pa., April 9.—Pittsburg will open the season on Wednesday at Cincinnati, with the same line-up as it did in the opening game with St. Louis last year, except in one instance. Hunter will guard the initial corner, while a year ago Bud Sharpe took care of it.

It is almost certain that Camnitz will pitch the game, although Lefield and Adams are said to have been under consideration by Capt. Clark. Camnitz has pitched the opening game in each of the past three seasonas and won them all. The Pittsburg club has not opened at home since 1893, when it was beaten by Cleveland, 7 to 6.

In Mexico Believed to Be Increasing--American Families Leaving the Oil Fields.

By Publishers' Press.

Mexico City, April 10.—Despite the talk of peace conferences the revolution is spreading throughout the country rapidly and reports from nearly every state show evidences of increasing discontent. The promised reforms are either not believed or are not considered sufficient. It is evident that the people will not be satisfied so long as the present administration remains in power. Bands of revolutionists, called bandits by the government, are roaming over many portions west and southwest of the capital. From Vera Cruz to Yucatan the rurallists are now being sent to the Vera Cruz to nip the uprising in the bud. American and English families in the oil fields are seeking safety in Tuxepan and Tampico.

Arts and Crafts Exhibit in City

The traveling exhibition of the Nation League of Handicraft societies is being shown in the rooms of the Arts and Handicrafts Guild of Greensboro, 207 West Market street, where members of the Guild, the people of Greensboro, and visitors to the city are always welcome. After Wednesday at 6 p. m. it will be sent to Charleston, S. C.

The exhibition contains specimens of the work of the best American craftsmen in leather work, in printing and illuminating. A great variety of design and decorative treatment appear in the leather work, some of the color work being especially interesting, while the skilful workmanship in the tooled, modeled and cut leather proclaim the master craftsman.

In the collection of printing are examples of the work of some of the best presses in America, notable among which are the Merrymount, the Dyke Mill, and the Village Press, the press of Alfred Bartlett and the press of Dole and Richards. The quality of paper, the style and cleanness of type, the composing and spacing, and the ornamentation are in every case elegant and well planned and bear testimony to the aesthetic possibilities of the graphic arts. The pen and ink drawings and the color sketches for book plates, cards, cover designs, etc., which are shown in the original are scarcely more beautiful in effect than the printed copies made from them. The degree of perfection attained in the half-tone and color printing further illustrates the great development in the art and industry of printing.

In contrast to these machine made reproductions of the designers' hand work are the many exquisite bits of hand illuminating, taking one back to the days before the invention of printing when all book-making and lettering were done by hand. Even these modern specimens with their accurate lettering, ornamental initials, borders, and other decorations gorgeous in coloring and rich with incrustations of burnished gold but faintly memorialize the magnificence of the bookmaking of the past.

Several of Mrs. Bertha Lum's wood cuts are also shown. Mrs. Lum is indubitably the greatest American artist in this particular craft. Having spent much time studying in Japan her work shows decided Japanese influence. Her pictures however enjoy a distinction which few if any Japanese wood cuts can boast—that of having been executed throughout all the processes of production by one individual. Mrs. Lum not only prepares and carves the wood and specially prepares the paper she uses but also prepares and applies the colors and does the printing, an especially delicate process where several colors are used.

In addition to this visiting exhibition the Guild offers what might be called a permanent exhibition of handicraft work. Japanese prints, stencils, lamp screens, and trays; photographic copies of Holbein's sketches in Windsor Castle, weaving and baskets from the mountains of North Carolina; baskets of wild grass and palmette from the coast of South Carolina; raffia bags, hand beaten metal trays and casserole covers and wind screens for the chafing dish; candle sticks, jamb hooks, door knockers, book racks of cast brass; pottery from the Walrath, Newcomb, Grueby, and Dedham Potteries and from the Bowl Shop; decorated porcelain, Sheffield plate and pewter in Colonial design; red lamp shades, stenciled scarfs and bags; colonial rugs; fan chains, necklaces and jewelry; Cluny, Malta, duchesse, Spanish and other hand-made laces; fragrant bayberry candles; and Easter, bon voyage and birthday cards.
